Practical information

Transport from Copenhagen Airport to Aarhus.

Train: you may take the train from Copenhagen Airport to Aarhus. Buy a train ticket at the airport. Price 388 DKK and 30 DKK for a seat (we recommend a seat from Copenhagen Central Station to Aarhus). NOTE: you have to change the train at Copenhagen Central Station (approximately 10 minutes train ride from the airport). It takes about three hours by train to get to Aarhus Central Station. Walk to hotel. See map on page 2

Bus: You will find daily bus rides directly from Copenhagen Airport to Aarhus bus station (tickets are cheaper than train, however not refundable, to be booked beforehand). NOTE: book and buy a bus ticket before your arrival in Denmark. Book the ticket from Copenhagen Terminal 2 to Aarhus. Link: <https://www.flixbus.com/>. Walk to hotel. See map.

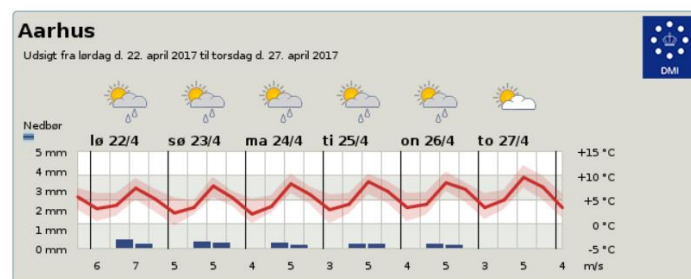

Weather in Denmark/ Aarhus

Right now, it is spring in Aarhus. However, only few trees are in blossom. Most of you will therefore find the weather unfamiliar.

The weather forecast tells us that you will have no more than 10 degrees Celsius = 50 degrees Fahrenheit during the days and, between 2-5 degrees Celsius = 35 – 41 Fahrenheit during the evenings and nights. This means that you should definitely bring warm clothes, sweaters, scarves, gloves and a warm hat for outdoor use. Inside, it is warm, however many of you would similarly like to bring sweaters and warm clothes for indoor use. Link to weather fore cast.

Cultural program during ISfTE

During the week in Aarhus, you will have the opportunity to see various attractions as part of our program. For example The open air museum "The old town", where you may find out more about the life in Denmark before the 1900s:

When entering "The old town", you travel back in time to when the streets were covered with cobblestone and the buildings were made with half-timbering. Just as in a Danish market town in

Hans Christian Andersen's days. Link: <http://www.dengambleby.dk/engelsk/the-old-town/discover/life-before-1900s/>

Another attraction is AROS, a modern art museum, famous for its “Rainbow” on the top of the museum, made by the famous Icelandic artist, Olafur Eliasson. On Wednesday evening, April 26, 2017 from 8-10 p.m., we will visit the Rainbow & Art Museum and, you will have the opportunity to see modern and traditional art.
